

Before the Telephone Privacy Act we received 4-5 calls a night and most of the time it was during our supper hour or when it was being prepared. Since we have had the Privacy Act we receive maybe one call during that time. It seems nice not to have any interruptions during family dinners.